Description:

Jill Elliot is an educator in Physical Literacy for Schools and Communities BC Initiative as well as a ZHealth educator and trainer who uses Applied Neurology or Brain based learning to train athletes across all sports from young children to elite professional and Olympic athletes. Jill has recently teamed up with the owner of Floorballplus, Greg Beaudin, and working with his team bringing the sport of Floorball into schools, hockey academies and community recreation programs across BC. We are currently working with the Vancouver Canucks and will be promoting Floorball with "Street team" as a safe, inclusive, off ice hockey skill development, fun sport for all!! Kids simply love playing Floorball!! Starting your school physical education program with an exciting new sport would be a great way to kick off the new school year! Also for kids that cant afford to play ice hockey, Floorball is the perfect inexpensive and safe sport that all kids can play. We supply you with all sticks, equipment and training tools, teacher training programs and can help you set up school and interschool competition. We currently have over 150 schools in BC playing floorball and approximately 24 hockey academies using floorball as their main off ice hockey training program.

I have been speaking with Steve Klassen elementary school Principal in your district and he is very supportive in bringing Floorball into his school. Would you have some time to meet and learn more about Floorball and our School initiative?

Thank you for your time and consideration Hope to meet with you soon
